CatarrH

The lastest, the lastest, How d'ye like the lastest? and wot?
—Recess the lastest girl doth make The round for moushous backwoods.
Aye, this is why doth lastest.

—The outlook in Washington—The Ostendity.

—The time a horse makes depends something on the horse and something on the track.

—The household that keeps a baby can afford to sell its alarm clock very cheap.

—An old maid, speaking of marriage says it's like any other disease—while there's life there's hope.

—Cleopatra's needle, that is on its way to New York, is suspected of being a fraud—is short, but one of her hairpins.

—When he sighs for her and she winks for him, the sighs of the times may be considered auspicious for a wedding.

—The Zulu lady wears her wedding ring in her nose. A double purpose is thus served. It disengages promises being keeping, and she is in little danger of losing her ring. She always knows where it is.

—Exchange standing Bear-said an old lady, reading about the wrongs of the Princes.—Why, how dreadful! Four sisters! I suppose those really agents have stolen all his clothes.

—The barber's razor took hold of his beard with a vengeance, when he looked up and said, apologetically, My dear sir, I came in to get shaved, not to get a tooth pulled.

—I wish it would rain, if it's going to,
said a Valjean wife to her husband.
And why, dear? he affectionately replied. Oh, said she, gazing vacantly at a pin on the floor, I don't see any use wearing monogram stockings this kind of weather.

—Pupil—I know how many days there are in a year—three hundred and sixty-five and a fourth. Parent—Is that so? Where does that fourth come in? Pupil—Fourth of July.

—A Danbury housekeeper observed to the hired girl, the other morning: Ann, as we have entered upon the dawn of another century of our nation's history, you had better get a tooth brush of your own.

—A lazy man having a wife named Hope, whose custom it was to pull off her husband's boots every evening, was wont to exclaim on such occasions: How truly it is said that Hope is the yanker of the sole.

—The Boston Home Journal says that a youth invested $1.50 through a New York advertisement to discover How to appear well in society. The receipt, which he receives by return mail was short, simple and easily understood: Always keep your nose clean, and don't suck more than one finger at a time.

—Many years ago a Connecticut clergyman, who was a most inveterate snuff-taker, commenced the Sunday service reading the fourth section of the 119th Psalm. Unconsciously, as he announced the passage to be read, while the hearers were looking up their Bibles he drew out a snuff-box and took out a lusty pinch of the contents, which resulted in a startling explosion of the nasal organ, making a style of eloquence somewhat as follows: My soul cle-anseth me—cleanseth me—cleanseth me—
